NOMA - WHAT DOES IT TAKE TO HAVE A HOME?

Noma "builds a compelling, empathetic narrative and reminds the viewer of the human beings at the centre of a systemic disaster". The Daily Maverick

Noma "is a single mother of two ... and a backyard 'shack-dweller'. The documentary follows Noma & highlights the struggle of impoverished people living in dire conditions. Tired of the high cost of rent, Noma joins a land occupation action movement to ... set up structures and occupy vacant land that is used as a dumping site, thus risking violent eviction. ... The last eviction sees police using live ammunition against residents, which is followed by Noma's echoing voice in the background: 'We will resist. Enough is enough.'" DIFF Film Fest, 2016.
